

December 14 Forum:
Drain the Swamp? Regulatory Reform Under President Trump

Common Good and Covington & Burling LLP invite you to attend a morning forum discussing regulatory reform in the Trump administration. The event will have three panels: 1) getting moving on infrastructure; 2) re-imagining regulatory reform; and 3) rethinking executive authority and congressional oversight.

Participants include (list in formation):

Oren Cass, Manhattan Institute
Christopher DeMuth, Hudson Institute
Susan E. Dudley, George Washington University
E. Donald Elliott, Covington & Burling; Yale Law School
Daniel M. Flores, Chief Counsel, House Subcomm. on Reg. Reform
William A. Galston, Brookings Institution
Hon. Newt Gingrich
Jason Grumet, Bipartisan Policy Center
Frederick M. Hess, American Enterprise Institute
Philip K. Howard, Common Good
Richard G. Kidd IV, Federal Permitting Improvement Steering Council
Brink Lindsey, Cato Institute
Will Marshall, Progressive Policy Institute
Diana C. Mendes, HNTB Corporation
Paul Noe, American Forest & Paper Association
David Schoenbrod, New York Law School
Michael Schmidt, former economic policy advisor to Hillary Clinton
John Veroneau, Covington & Burling
Philip A. Wallach, Brookings Institution

Title: Drain the Swamp? Regulatory Reform Under President Trump

When: Wednesday, December 14, 2016
9:00 AM to 12:30 PM, with informal lunch after Registration and breakfast begin at 8:15 AM

Where: Covington & Burling LLP
10th Floor
One CityCenter
850 Tenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 2001

To RSVP, please e-mail your name, position, affiliation, and contact information to Ruth Mary Giverin of Common Good at rmgiverin@commongood.org. Please contact Ruth with any questions as well. All attendees must register before the day of the event.